Miss Anne Whitney
Charlesgate
Boston
Mass.

and I went to Orange to transact some business and I have been in stores all the afternoon - and tomorrow morning we have to be down town at ten o'clock, and so the rush has begun again and there will be plenty to do to get ready for the Green Mountains.
I hope you had a pleasant day for Plymouth. We had several showers, on our trip home.
The clock strikes ten and I am going to keep up my good Boston habit of keeping early hours. Our love to you dear ladies - three, and many delightful thoughts of the future so quickly sped! Lovingly Maggie.

Dear Aunt Anne.

I had a short but delightful ride down beautiful Commonwealth Ave. after parting with you, I doubt if there could be another day in the whole year when that superb street could appear to better advantage, everything so clean so green and radiant with sunlight

Frank appeared soon after I began to watch for him from one of the imposing oak high backed chairs in the waiting room. He bought our tickets and changed the Carlos car seat to the 10.03 train. It was a perfect day for travelling and we had a comfortable trip beginning the time with conversation, newspapers and lunch. I want to mention the fact that I paid the driver for the couple - so if you should find any charge on your bill through mistake for that morning (May 21st <sup>at</sup>) you may correct it.

George was not at home when we arrived, but came in soon after. I did so enjoy my week, did so much and saw so many, and rested so entirely, it did me lots of good, and I am home sick for your beautiful outlook from the window, the lights and the stars and the perfect tranquility of it all. This morning Frank
